WISE Assistants

■ Teaching Assistant (TA)

Teaching Assistants act as a bridge between lecturers and students. They facilitate cultural learning activities by enhancing communication among participants. TAs may also deliver useful information to the participants concerning cultural learning activities or the overall WIS program from time to time. They are the first ones you are advised to contact if you have any questions about WISE program.

■ Housing Assistant (HA)

Housing Assistants are dormitory helpers who stay in the dorm with you. WISE participants must contact the HA of the dorm if they have any housing problems or difficulties. You are expected to follow the HAs' instructions and guidance, as they are the authorized staff of the dorm that are responsible for supervising it with or without a security guard.

■ Office Assistant (OA)

Office Assistants are administrators in the WISE Office. They provide you with useful information regarding administrative aspects of the program such as insurance, cultural learning activities, and grading. You can find them in the office during regular operating hours.

WISE Credit and Transfer

Each WISE course is a 2-credit course. In order to obtain credit for a full summer semester at SKKU, students must complete 30 hours of study in 2 weeks. You can see the SKKU Academic Transcript Guide on the following website: <https://winter.skku.edu/winter/board/notice.do>.

■ Credit Transfer

A student's home university is primarily responsible for transferring SKKU credits. SKKU only provides information on the WISE grading system, course syllabi, and academic transcripts. Everyday Essentials

Banking

The easiest bank for students to access is Woori Bank, which is located inside the campus. Most banking institutions in Korea open at 9:00 AM and close at 4:00 PM. There are ATMs that accept international credit/debit cards at several banks near each campus.

Currency and Cost of Living

Korean currency is called Won (KRW) – shown as a ₩ before monetary amounts. Denominations are ₩10, ₩50, ₩100 and ₩500 in coin; and ₩1,000, ₩5,000, ₩10,000 and ₩50,000 in bills. For public transportation and vending machines, ₩1,000 bills and coins are widely used. Most shops and taxis will accept two major credit cards, Visa and MasterCard. Debit cards are also acceptable, but make sure your debit card can be used in Korea.

Item	Price

A glass of beer (500cc)	₩5,000
Cafe latte (tall) in Starbucks	₩4,800
A lunch at SKKU's cafeteria	₩3,000 ~ ₩6,000

Milk (500 ml)	₩1,500

Climate and Weather

The climate in South Korea can be characterized into four distinct seasons: spring, summer, autumn and winter. The average temperature in winter is -2.4 °C with a high of 1.5 °C and a low of -5.9 °C while the humidity is usually around 59.8%. January is usually the coldest month in Korea, which means it is the best time to enjoy winter activities involving snow or ice, but WISE students are advised to dress appropriately since the temperature can drop to as low as -15 °C on rare occasions.

The average precipitation in Korea is 20.8 mm in January. Winter is generally dry in Korea, but there is a steady chance of snowfall throughout the season. Most days have clear skies and large storms are quite rare, especially in the winter.

Transportation

■ Subway

The subway is the easiest and quickest way to get to your destination in the metropolitan area. A pre-paid transit card is also useful and convenient if you use the subway often. All signs and most announcements are in Korean and English as well as Japanese and Chinese. In addition, you can distinguish the lines by their colors and the stops are numbered as well.

■ Bus

There are two types of buses in Korea: the regular city bus and the deluxe bus. For your convenience, it is possible to use a pre-paid transit card to pay the fare instead of paying by cash. Since bus lines can be complicated, even for Seoul residents, we recommend you use the subway unless you are certain about the bus number and the stop.

■ Taxi

Taxis can be expensive if you are traveling a long distance. The basic fare is ₩3,800 for a regular taxi, and the black luxury taxis (called deluxe taxis) cost more with a basic fare starting at ₩5,000~8,000. A 20% extra fare will be charged from midnight to 04:00 am. There is also a special orange cab for international residents living in Korea in which users can use foreign languages.

Mobile Phone Subscription

There are three mobile phone service providers in Korea: SK Telecom, KT and LG U+. All three operate mobile phone shops near the campuses in Seoul and Suwon. Phones, as well as other electronic devices can also be found in great supply at the Electronic Market and I'Park Mall in the Seoul district of Yongsan, less than 30 minutes by train from the Humanities and Social Sciences Campus. Pre-paid mobile phones are the best option for short-term visitors like WISE students.

Electricity

The standard voltage in South Korea is 220V. There are two-pin plugs on most Korean electrical equipment, the same type used in France, Germany, Austria, Greece, Turkey, and many other countries. Some 120V electrical appliances may not work properly even with an adapter, but any devices with an AC adapter such as laptops or rechargeable batteries should function safely.
